

Design Considerations and Interesting Features of SME Support Programs

BY MALLORY DREYER AND KALEB NYGAARD

Original post here.

Over the past four months, governments have announced more than 700 programs to provide assistance to small- and medium-sized enterprises. These firms are vital to the world economy and are particularly vulnerable to the COVID-19 shock.

YPFS has compiled a list of design considerations for policymakers in developing and implementing SME support programs. Under each design consideration, we have a number of observations regarding interesting features and design challenges seen across programs to date.

Download this PDF to access our resource.