Educating Leaders for

BUSINESS

SOCIETY

Become a global leader who makes a difference.

- ◆ Spend a year at Yale getting the skills and the global perspective to take on the big issues facing business and society.
- ◆ Build a curriculum customized for your goals, leveraging electives at Yale SOM and throughout Yale University.
- ◆ Learn alongside a cohort of rising global leaders—and get access to the worldwide Yale alumni network.

Our mission of educating leaders for business and society makes us the place for people who care about making a real difference in the world.

We've always weighed the "business" and "society" in our mission equally. From our founding, we have taught students to understand the vital connections between public and private efforts and between the goals of growing your business and making an impact.

All of the major challenges we face—climate change, economic inequality, racial injustice, political turmoil—require leaders who can engage with the world of business, governments, and the social sector, and who can identify and implement the best ideas and solutions wherever they may arise.

Program Structure

Join a group of emerging leaders from all corners of the globe for intensive study, exchange, and professional development.

The Master of Advanced Management (MAM) is a nine-month degree program for exceptional MBAs from top business schools around the world who aspire to become global leaders for business and society. As part of the broader Yale community, MAM students have the opportunity to select from an array of electives and extracurricular activities across Yale SOM and the rest of the university.

The Yale campus serves as an intellectual crossroads, convening renowned leaders, visiting speakers, and those with distinctively global perspectives to advance understanding around the unique opportunities and challenges of today's world.

Yale SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

MAM curriculum

The MAM program draws on the business expertise of the Yale School of Management and the reach of Yale University in addressing the big questions facing business and society.

Across all sectors, today's global leaders must have a firm grasp on major global risks and trends, thrive in cross-cultural environments, and know how to make meaningful connections across knowledge domains. The MAM curriculum is designed to prepare students to nimbly meet these challenges of global leadership.

MAM students participate in a set of required courses oriented around major global risks and trends and the role of business leaders in today's society. They also curate their own intellectual journey by choosing electives from throughout Yale University.

MAM Courses

Global Leadership: Personal and Interpersonal Effectiveness

An invitation to enrich and expand your leadership capacity through interactive workshops and guided peer-to-peer learning.

Topics in Advanced Management for Business & Society

A course featuring thought leaders from across Yale University on some of the most pressing global risks and trends and resulting business implications.

Yale Electives

Students choose from more than 170 courses at the Yale School of Management and over 1,000 course offerings across Yale University, including its graduate and professional schools in areas such as law, global affairs, public health, engineering, and environmental studies.

Management Science Major

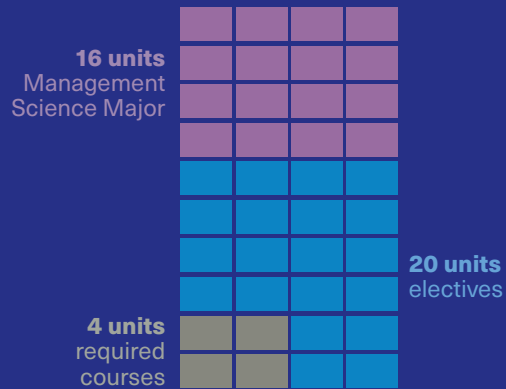

Students can qualify for a management science major by completing a minimum number of credits in eligible courses focusing on applying quantitative methods to challenges in business and management. Students who complete this major have the opportunity to qualify for an additional two-year STEM extension of their one-year Post-Completion OPT (Optional Practical Training) work permission. The management science major is designed for students who are dedicated to a career in STEM and planning to work in the United States after graduation, and must be declared during the admissions process.

Topics in Advanced Management for Business & Society

Discuss the big issues with the policymakers, businesspeople, and scholars who are shaping the future.

“To meet stakeholder expectations, and to ultimately convert global challenges into business opportunities, aspiring leaders must understand an array of issues that extend far beyond traditional business concerns. Only then can they create ‘shared value’ at the nexus of business and society.”

“The Yale MAM program, along with the SOM and broader Yale network, was an incredible launchpad for me. The flexible curriculum allowed me to focus on my top priorities for business school—becoming a stronger strategic communicator, deepening my financial skills, and preparing for tech interviews. The Tech Club’s mock sessions and alumni guidance were instrumental in helping me prepare for the next step in my career.”

Our global approach

Yale is a global campus, with students and faculty coming from all parts of the world. Yale SOM is a founding member of the Global Network for Advanced Management, which connects our students to their counterparts at 30+ top business schools on six continents.

1+1 > 2

The Yale School of Management's 1+1 gives you a unique opportunity: the ability to apply to an MBA at a top business school and Yale's Master of Advanced Management (MAM) at the same time. With an admission decision for both programs before your MBA begins, you can chart your full academic journey in advance.

Or apply to the Yale SOM MAM in the first year of your MBA and your time at Yale could even count toward credit at your MBA institution, giving you more value, more flexibility, and more impact.

Visit our website for more information about 1+1 schools and deadlines, or reach out to us at advanced.management@yale.edu.

Application information & deadlines

Round 1 is exclusively open to applicants from schools in the Global Network for Advanced Management.
